LATERAL FLOW DIAGNOSTICS

VetExpert's immunochromatographic lateral flow diagnostic tests are a quick, easy and cost-effective tool in the everyday practice of a veterinary surgeon. The tests allow for a rapid diagnosis and immediate implementation of the appropriate therapy.

The rapid diagnostic tests are high-quality products, which pass a number of quality controls, with high levels of sensitivity and specificity. The range covers the detection of vector, respiratory tract and infectious diseases as well as diarrhoeas and food allergies.

DERMOCOSMETICS

VetExpert specialist dermocosmetics have been created with the greatest care and the ingredients they contain have been selected so as to perfectly nourish and not irritate the sensitive skin of animals.

With VetExpert cosmetics, a bath, ear or eye care will always be gentle and effective. And if pets are bothered by skin conditions - there is a solution for it within the dermocosmetic range. Specialized VetExpert dermatological shampoos and sprays will help rid animals of troublesome ailments and regain comfort.

SUPPLEMENTS

Among the VetExpert preparations you will find safe and effective supplements supporting the joints, liver, heart, digestive and urinary system, immunity and eyesight. They will also help to gently calm pets in stressful situations.

Animal dietary supplements effectively supplement nutrient deficiencies to which older and growing animals are particularly exposed. Supplements play an important role in supporting the therapy of animals and in many cases improve the animal's quality of life.

RAW PALEO DOG & CAT FOOD

RAW PALEO is a high-meat, single source of animal protein, dry and wet food which helps reduce the risk of food allergies. Expertly designed by Veterinarians, it does not contain preservatives, grains, gluten or unnecessary fillers.

RAW PALEO has been repeatedly awarded industry-renowned awards and certificates, including: Top Innovation 2018, European Quality Certificate 2019, Top for Dog 2019, Good Brand 2019 - Quality, Trust, Reputation in the Discovery of the Year category, Zoo Industry Quality Certificate 2019 and Product of the Year 2019.

VETERINARY DIETS

VetExpert veterinary foods have unique compositions that help even the most demanding patients recover. The innovative formulas and appealing flavours of both dry and wet foods allow vets to apply the recommended therapy, without worrying about the effectiveness or the palatability.

Experts in animal nutrition - VetExpert understand the health problems that pets have. If cats or dogs are suffering from obesity, digestive disorders, problems with the liver, urinary tract issues, or skin allergies, there is an appropriate variant of the specialist veterinary diet products available.
